TO PLAY IN NEW YORK.

The Deutscher Verein will Present "Alt Heidelberg" on Nov. 16.

The Deutscher Verein, Cornell's undergraduate German club, is to give a dramatic performance in New York city. The comedy "Alt Heidelberg," which the club presented with great success in Ithaca last year, will be performed by almost the same cast in the new German Theater, at Madison avenue and Fifty-ninth street, on Monday, November 16. A few days before the New York performance the play will be given in Ithaca. The club makes its appearance in New York under the auspices of the Society of German Authors of America, and the players will be the guests of that society.

Professor A. B. Faust will again have charge of the production and the chorus will be drilled by Professor Paul R. Pope. Rehearsals have been in progress for a week past. Several members of the Masque will have parts in the drama. Circulars of information are to be sent to alumni, to schools in and near New York, to members of the Society of German Authors and to friends of the players. R. P. Turner is business manager of the tour, and any inquiries should be sent to him at 116 Lake street, Ithaca. His assistant is L. G. Bennett, 6 South avenue.

Sanitary Science Lectures.

President Schurman on Friday delivered in Goldwin Smith hall the first lecture in the new course on sanitary science and public health. This course is to be given by the University in co-operation with the State Department of Health. The President read a letter from Dr. Eugene H. Porter, '80, Commissioner of Health, in which Dr. Porter spoke of the importance of the new course to the State. The President said that the purpose of the course was to teach the newer hygiene—what might be called "the hygiene of environment." He said that several courses of study now given by various departments of the University might well be grouped so as to form a regular course in sanitary science.

"I believe," he said, "that it will devolve on the universities to make special arrangements for the teaching of sanitary science. I believe that the universities of the future will have schools of sanitary science as they have schools of law, physics, agriculture, and courses, leading to degrees, which will fit men and women for the vocation of sanitary science.

"For such a course here, it has surprised me how many courses that would be prescribed we are already offering. We offer physiology, hygiene, and, in the College of Civil Engineering, sanitary engineering, which includes water supply and sanitary sewage. There should be also a course on vital statistics, as it is important that the student should know existing conditions and understand just what he is preparing to cope with. On the whole I believe that if we would organize the scattered courses already existing here we could make up a course in sanitary science."

Two hours of University credit will be given to students who take the full course of lectures.

LL. D. for President Schurman.

President Schurman attended, as the representative of Cornell University, the inauguration of Harry Augustus Garfield as president of Williams College at Williamstown, Mass., on October 7. The degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon President Schurman and also upon the presidents of the University of Wisconsin, Amherst, Columbia, Yale, Princeton and Virginia; Abbott Lawrence Lowell, trustee of Lowell Institute; James Bryce, British Ambassador to the United States, and Curtis Guild, jr., Governor of Massachusetts. Dr. Schurman had already received the same distinction from Columbia and Yale Universities and the University of Edinburgh.

MARVIN IN FAR NORTH.

Cornell Member of Peary Expedition Writes From Etah, North Greenland.

A letter from Ross G. Marvin, '05, who gave up an instructorship in the College of Civil Engineering last summer to become a member of the North Polar Expedition under Commander Peary, has been received in the office of this paper. It was written on board the steamship Roosevelt at Etah, North Greenland, on August 8, and was posted at Halifax on October 5, having been brought from the north by the Peary relief ship Erik. Etah is in latitude 78 degrees 18 minutes north. When the letter was written the Roosevelt was about to leave Etah for her winter station on the northern coast of Grant Land, in latitude 83 degrees north, where, if all goes well in the meantime, Peary will take to sledges for his "dash for the Pole." This supreme effort will begin about March 14, as soon as the sun appears above the horizon, and must be completed before the ice begins to break up in June.

This is the second Peary expedition of which Mr. Marvin has been a member, and there is said to be only one other man whom Peary has taken with him a second time. Marvin is well equipped. Not only is he a geologist and botanist, but he is also an engineer and a competent navigator.

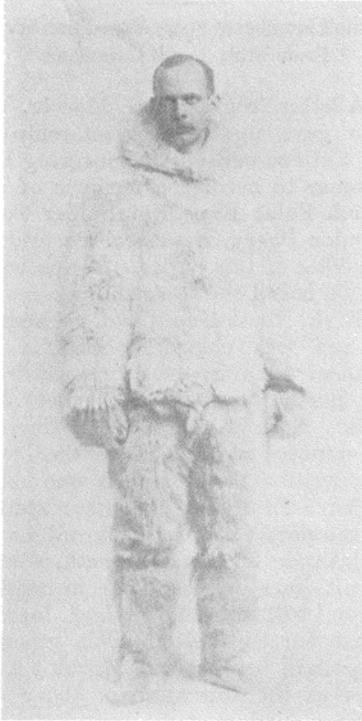

He writes as follows:

" . . . We are lying at Etah a few days preparatory to our fight with the ice, which begins as soon as we leave the harbor. Our relief ship, the Erik, returns south from here after giving us a full load of coal and landing the remainder of her load here for our use on our return. This letter will be returned on board the Erik and mailed when they reach port.

"We have already most of our natives and dogs on board. When we leave here we will have about twenty families and over 200 dogs. I would like to write more, but I have many letters to write at this last opportunity, so I beg to close."

Two letters from Mr. Marvin, written at Etah about the same time, have been received by President Schurman. In one of these he says that he is sending the horn of a narwhal for the University museum.

MR. MARVIN IN ARCTIC COSTUME.

The other letter follows:

"Dear Sir: We reached Cape York on July 31 and Etah on August 6. We have still a few native Eskimo and furs and dogs to gather in, but expect to leave here within less than a week.

"This point, the most northern settlement [of Eskimos] in the world, marks the end of our sea voyage proper, and the beginning of our battle with the sea ice, forcing our way north through the narrow channels often completely choked.

"We have met with fair success so far, having found the natives in good health and well supplied with furs and dogs. When we leave here we will take about twenty families with us and over 200 dogs.

"We are already in the land of midnight, but have cloud and fog most of the time. The weather has cleared today, and while I am writing this near midnight the sun is shining brightly in my face through the open window of my cabin.

"This letter will be returned to Newfoundland by our supply ship Erik, which leaves us here. We have still 250 miles to go with the ship. With the most favorable conditions it might be done in a few days. Last trip it consumed four weeks, and from the appearance of the ice will take even longer this time.

"We are confident of final success, however, both now and in the spring. Hoping to be with you again next September, I beg to remain,

"Very sincerely yours,
"ROSS G. MARVIN."

IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Meeting held at Manila to Organize a Cornell Alumni Association.

The Manila Times of August 6 contained the following article:

"Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Beardsley gave a delightful Cornell dinner at their home on San Marcelino last evening for the executive committee for the temporary organization of the Cornell Alumni Association of the Philippine Islands. In addition to the original committee, composed of Percy Warner Tinan, chairman; J. W. Beardsley, Harry D. Gibbs, W. E. Conklin and Antonio Brias, there were present E. E. Fisher and A. Gideon. Mrs. Gibbs, mother of H. D. Gibbs, and Mrs. E. E. Fisher were also present.

"The university colors of red and white were cleverly worked into the table decorations, each guest was presented with a boutonniere, and the place cards were especially original and attractive.

"During the evening the committee formulated plans for a preliminary smoker to be held the last Saturday of the present month and a large banquet to take place about the 10th of October at which the official organization under the Cornell University rules will be perfected. A rousing banquet, which is expected to be the largest gathering of men from any one university held in the Orient, will take place during the holidays. There are at present known to be over sixty Cornell men in these islands."

EDUCATIONAL SPECIAL.

College of Agriculture to Run a Train Through Western New York.

Along the lines of the Erie Railroad in Western New York a train will be run this fall by the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell. The train will be known as the Educational Special. On board will be about a dozen of the oldest and best men of the agricultural faculty.

At each station, where a stop of forty-five minutes will be made, the professors will talk to the farmers and answer any questions that may be asked by seekers for information about improved methods of farming. Circulars and posters will be sent in advance, so that the exact time of the arrival of the train may be known. Towns on the main line, the Rochester division and the Hornell and Attica division and their branches will probably be visited and the party will be on the road about ten days.

The train will consist of locomotive and four or five coaches. Two coaches will be fitted up as auditorium cars; a third will be filled with exhibits such as the college generally sends to the county fairs, and one or two other cars will be fitted up as diners and sleepers. The train will carry a regular crew and an official of the road will go with the party to superintend the running schedule.

The proposition to run this train was made to the college by Luis Jackson, industrial commissioner of the Erie, and the faculty were not long in agreeing to do their part. It is the first time the college at Cornell has been able to engage in such an enterprise, although the idea is not a new one. "Corn trains" have been run by railroads in Western States for several years for the purpose of educating farmers in the growing of the staple crop so as to increase shipments on the line. The Erie's purpose is similar, but its lines in Western New York traverse a region where the agriculture is much more diversified than in the West. So the lecturers and demonstrators who go with the train will have a diversified task. The two auditorium cars will be used for addresses on different topics of interest to any particular community, and if the weather is fair, lectures may be delivered from the station platform. Work will begin at eight o'clock in the morning and the schedule will provide for a stop of forty-five minutes at each station to meet the assembled farmers. Each night the train will be in some large town where a hall may be hired and a good sized audience addressed. The expedition will probably start soon after election.

University Scholarships.

At a meeting of the University Faculty on Friday afternoon the eighteen University scholarships were awarded to members of the class of 1912 on the basis of examinations held recently. The value of these scholarships is $400 each, $100 payments being made each February and June for two years. For the fourth successive year the Boys' High School of Brooklyn carries off the honors, its graduates winning six of the eighteen prizes. No other school obtained more than one. The awards follow:

The Cornell Scholarships—Moses Lewis Kaufman, civil engineering, Boys' High School, Brooklyn. Samuel Joshua Walzer, civil engineering, Boys' High School, Brooklyn.

The H. B. Lord Scholarships—Olin France Flumerfelt, civil engineering, Binghamton Central High School. Leslie Herbert Croser, law, Boy's High School, Brooklyn.

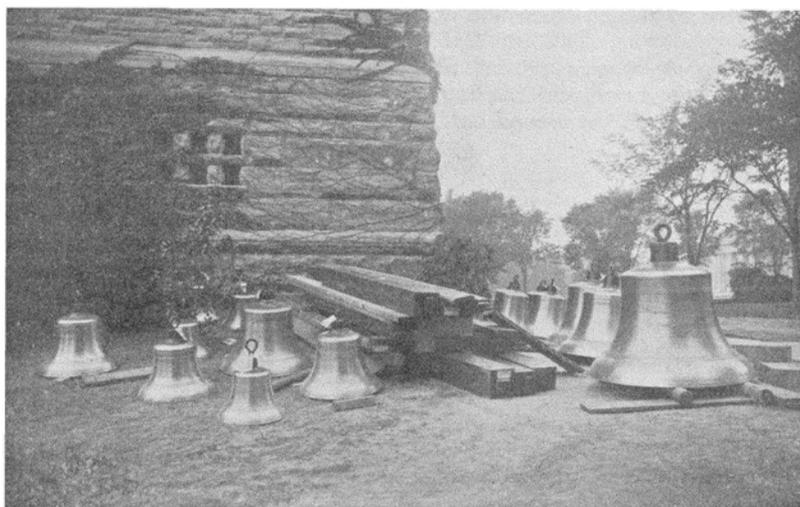

The McGraw Scholarships—Oswald David Reich, mechanical engineering, Curtis High School, Brooklyn. Jacob Biersuck, civil engineering, Boys' High School, Brooklyn.

The Sage Scholarships—Janet Ray Frisch, arts, Girls' High School, Brooklyn. Florence Marguerita Carpenter, arts, Ithaca High School.

The Sibley Scholarships—Robert Foster Volentine, mechanical engineering, Adelphi Academy, Brooklyn. Percy Shepardson Lyon, mechanical engineering, Boys' High School, Brooklyn.

The President White Scholarships—Clayton Joseph Buttery, arts, Westfield High School. Lewis Edwin Neff, arts, Walton High School.

The Horace Greeley Scholarships—Miller Burrows, arts, Lafayette High School, Buffalo. Gustavus Edward Bentley, agriculture, James-ton High School.

THE UNIVERSITY'S NEW BELLS AS THEY LAY ON THE GROUND AT THE BASE OF THE LIBRARY TOWER THE OTHER DAY. THEY ARE NOW IN PLACE IN THE TOWER.

The John Stanton Gould Scholarships—Lawrence Morehouse, arts, Utica Free Academy. Walter August Verwiebe, arts, Masten Park High School, Buffalo.

The Stewart L. Woodford Scholarships—Julius Smith, arts, Boys' High School, Brooklyn. Reuben Bernhard Smith, law, Eastern District High School, Brooklyn.

Hobart Cone Young, '09, of Batavia, N. Y., has been elected captain of the 'varsity' cross-country team. Young ran on the 'varsity' team for the first time last year. In the intercollegiate meet he finished sixth, being the fourth Cornell man to finish. He took second place in the intercollegiate two-mile run last spring. Young is the only member of last year's varsity 'cross-country team on this year's squad.

The freshman eleven won its first game of the season on Saturday, defeating the Ithaca High School team 14 to 0. Gass, the freshman fullback, scored nine of the fourteen points with a touchdown and a drop kick.

The 'varsity' basketball team is planning to take a Christmas trip, with games in Rochester, Tonawanda, Buffalo, Syracuse, Albany, Springfield, Mass.; Hartford, Conn.; Brooklyn and Orange.

Dean Crane returned from Europe this week.

OBERLIN GETS 10 POINTS.

Cornell, 23—Some Promising New Players Take Part in the Game.

Oberlin was defeated on Percy Field last Saturday by a score of 23 to 10, almost the same as last year. The visitors scored a touchdown and a field goal from placement. Their touchdown was made by their quarterback, Gray, who got the ball on his own goal line after an attempt at a drop-kick by Cornell and ran the entire length of the field, shaking off or dodging one Cornell player after another. It was the longest run ever seen on Percy Field and it made the Cornell team look sheepish. It showed a sad uncertainty in tackling and also a lack of headwork, for Gray ran close to the side line for thirty yards, with Cornell men all about him, and might at least have been forced out of bounds.

By the end of the second half, almost all Cornell's players were substitutes, and the coaches said the substitutes did better than the regulars. Some changes in the line-up will probably be made before the Colgate game on the coming Saturday. On the whole Cornell's work was not without promise for the future. Both Gardner and Caldwell at quarterback ran the team with judgment. MacArthur and Hurlburt, the substitute ends, distinguished themselves. Hurlburt's interference alone enabled Mowe to score one of Cornell's touchdowns. Captain Walder's good work was apparent at every stage of the game, and Ebeling, who took his place in the second half, did well.

The line-up:

CORNELL		OBERLIN
Pope.....	l. e.	Ferris
Farrington.....	l. t.	Harvey
McCullum.....	l. g.	Belden
Wight.....	c.	Brown
Cosgrove.....	r. g.	Faxter
O'Rourke.....	r. t.	D. Pendleton
Crosby.....	r. e.	Cole
Gardner.....	q. b.	Gray
Tydeman.....	l. h.	Clark
Shearer.....	r. h.	Vradenburg
Walder.....	f. b.	Houser

Substitutions—Cornell: Hurlburt for Pope, Pavek for Farrington, Coman for McCullum, Kelley for Cosgrove, Goff for O'Rourke, MacArthur for Crosby, Caldwell for Gardner, Mowe for Tydeman, Hutchinson for Shearer, Ebeling for Walder, Robb for Mowe, Halsey for MacArthur; Oberlin: Gorschuk for Brown, Brown for Ferris, Ament for Cole, Cole for D. Pendleton, Pelton for Gray, G. Pendleton for Vradenburg. Touchdowns—Walder (2), Mowe, Hutchinson, Gray. Goals from Touchdowns—Caldwell (2), Gardner, Houser. Goal for field—Houser. Referee—Southworth, Harvard. Umpire—McCarthy, Georgetown. Head linesman—C. V. P. Young, Cornell. Time of halves—20 minutes.

FIRST HALF.

Cornell defended the west goal. Cosgrove kicked off to Houser and the Oberlin fullback was downed on the 15-yard line. After three attempts to gain, Houser punted to Gardner on Oberlin's 40-yard line. Tydeman gained five yards in two plays, and Cornell tried a forward pass and failed, Oberlin recovering the ball. Oberlin failed at a forward pass and was penalized to her 30-yard line, from where she gained ten yards through the line and was then held. Houser punted to Gardner on Cornell's 35-yard line. Tydeman and Walder advanced the ball to midfield, where Walder punted to Oberlin's 10-yard line, the ball being run back ten yards by Gray. Oberlin lost ten yards by a fumble, but recovered the ball, and punted to Shearer at midfield. Shearer, with good interference by Walder and Gardner, ran to Oberlin's 35-yard line before he was downed.

In tackling Shearer, Vradenburg was injured and carried from the field unconscious. He was taken to the University Infirmary, where he was said on Monday to be improving.

His injury was a slight concussion of the brain.

From Oberlin's 35-yard line, Tydeman gained three yards. Walder fumbled, but O'Rourke recovered the ball. Walder gained six yards, but Cornell was penalized ten yards, to Oberlin's 25-yard line, for offside play. Tydeman, aided by good interference, gained fifteen yards and Walder went through right guard to the 6-yard line. On a cross-buck Walder then went through Oberlin's left tackle for Cornell's first touchdown. Gardner kicked goal. Score: Cornell, 6; Oberlin, 0.

The rest of the half was a series of punts, with no further scoring, and time was called with the ball in Oberlin's possession on her 45-yard line.

SECOND HALF.

Spectacular plays marked the opening of the second half. Walder caught the kick-off on Cornell's 5-yard line and ran sixty yards, being forced out of bounds on Oberlin's 45-yard line. Shearer gained five yards and Tydeman fifteen. A forward pass failed, and Walder tried a drop-kick from the 30-yard line, near the north boundary. The ball went low and to the south of the posts, and Gray, the Oberlin quarterback, picked it up on the goal line and ran down the south side of the field for a touchdown. He got through the scattered Cornell team and for the last forty yards of his run he had a clear field. Houser kicked the goal. Score: Cornell, 6; Oberlin, 6.

Several substitutions were made in the Cornell team. Cosgrove kicked off to Oberlin's 5-yard line, and Gray, after dodging half a dozen of the Cornell team but failing to gain, passed the ball to one of the Oberlin backs, who fumbled, and Cornell recovered the ball out of bounds on Oberlin's 30-yard line. Mowe, with good interference, carried it to the one-yard line and Walder was pushed over for a touchdown. Caldwell kicked goal. Score, Cornell, 12; Oberlin, 6.

Mowe caught the kick-off on Cornell's 10-yard line and ran fifteen yards. Walder punted to D. Pendleton, who caught the ball on Oberlin's 5-yard line and ran fifteen yards. Gray advanced to Cornell's 30-yard line, where Houser tried to kick a field goal and failed. Walder punted from Cornell's 5-yard line to Gray on Oberlin's 48-yard line. MacArthur failed to see Gray's signal for a fair catch and tackled him in his tracks. Cornell was penalized to her 35-yard line. MacArthur tackled Gray for a loss of five yards. Mowe caught Gray's inside kick and ran seventy yards for a touchdown. He would have been tackled in midfield but for Hurlburt's clever blocking. Caldwell kicked goal. Score: Cornell, 18; Oberlin, 6.

Oberlin increased her score to 10 points with a field goal by Houser. Near the end of the game a well-executed forward pass, Caldwell to Hutchinson, gave Cornell a fourth touchdown. Caldwell failed to kick goal. Final score: Cornell, 23; Oberlin, 10.

AN APPEAL FOR MORE MEN.

The Cornell Daily Sun on Friday printed at the head of its editorial page the following letter from Captain George H. Walder:

"Editor Cornell Sun:

"The number of candidates who have reported for the 'varsity football team is entirely too small for the proper kind of 'varsity which should represent Cornell this fall.

"The football alumni have returned in greater numbers this season than ever before and will continue to do so. The material at the field is actually not sufficient to make up a 'varsity with substitutes and a second team. Under such conditions a very serious handicap has been placed upon the players at the field and upon the coaches.

"The make-up of the 'varsity has not been decided and there is still time to make several positions which remain unfilled.

"I hereby call for additional candidates for the 'varsity and trust that the students will appreciate that they alone can remedy the situation, and that their response will be prompt."

On some afternoons during the week preceding the Oberlin game there were not more than thirty-five men on the 'varsity field, and the coaches had trouble in making up a strong scrub team. This was in sharp contrast to the scene on the north end of Percy Field, where seventy husky and lively freshmen were practicing under their coach, Arthur Gordon, '04. The 'varsity coaches have cast longing looks at this freshman squad. The number of candidates for the 1912 team will be cut down, probably to less than thirty, this week, as the number that may be excused from drill is limited.

Coach Larkin was in the City Hospital most of the week, suffering from blood poisoning resulting from an injury to his foot. He returned to the field on Saturday. Coach Earle was on duty all the week. He was assisted by W. F. Ohl, '97; E. R. Alexander, '01, and J. A. Pollak, '07. Alexander will remain for some time, and Harry Lyle, '98, and W. F. Dorner, '01, were expected early in the present week.

The surface of Percy Field has been very dry and very hard, and this has been a cause of frequent injury to the players. Crosby, Harris and Hutchinson have suffered from sprains, and O'Rourke was in the Infirmary for two or three days on account of a bruise which had become infected.

Athletics for the Many.

An intercollegiate athletic association was organized in the University last week. It will conduct contests among the several colleges of the University in various branches of sport. Its organization is expected to interest a larger number of students than heretofore in the intercollegiate games, to afford more of them the benefit of stimulating exercise out-of-doors and incidentally to cause more men to try for the 'varsity teams.

Last year intercollegiate contests were held in 'cross-country running, basketball, rowing, baseball and track, a cup or other trophy being presented to the winning college in each event. This year the contests will be conducted by a central athletic board. Besides trophies, points will be credited to the colleges in the order of their standing in each sport, and to the college winning the greatest number of points by the end of the year will be awarded a banner emblematic of the championship of the University. To the series of events in which contests were held last year will be added this year association football and a winter indoor meet, making a complete cycle of events—two, 'cross-country running and association football, in the fall; two, basketball and an indoor meet, in the winter, and three in the spring, baseball, rowing and track. The American Rugby football is considered too violent for untrained men such as compose the intercollegiate teams.

It was estimated last year that 550 students actually competed in the various athletic contests among the several colleges. There were 400 others who made up the 'varsity teams in major and minor sports, and a considerable number who tried for but did not make a team. These figures show that a larger proportion than is generally supposed of the entire body of students obtains exercise and recreation in athletic contests.

The Chicago Game.

Graduate Manager Dugan went to Buffalo early this week and there met Frank S. Porter, '00, representing a committee of the Cornell University Association of Chicago, to make arrangements for the Cornell-University of Chicago football game at Chicago on November 14. The Chicago alumni are planning to hold a "rally" on the evening before the game, perhaps at the University Club. The Athletic Association will send out a series of circulars to alumni in the Middle West, advising them of the arrangements for the sale of tickets. An effort will be made to persuade the railroads to grant special rates. While in Chicago the Cornell team will stop at the Chicago Beach Hotel.

OBITUARY.

E. M. BROWN.

Edward Miles Brown, who was acting assistant professor of English in the University in 1889-90, died at his home in Mount Auburn, Cincinnati, O., during the summer. He had been since 1890 a member of the faculty of the University of Cincinnati, for two years as professor of modern languages and afterward as professor of the English language and literature. He was born in Michigan in 1854 and was educated at the Universities of Michigan, Strassburg, Berlin, Halle and Göttingen.

W. W. LYON, '72.

William Workman Lyon, a member of the class of '72, died on October 7 at his home, 90 Decatur street, Brooklyn, N. Y. He was the son of a lawyer of Buffalo and was born in that city on November 19, 1850. In the Civil War he enlisted as a drummer boy. Subsequently he served in the National Guard of New York and was aide to General Graves, with the title of major. After he left college he practiced law in Buffalo for some time, but about twenty years ago he went to New York city and was connected successively with the Commercial Advertiser, the World and the Times. For the last ten years he had been on the staff of the New York News Bureau and he was one of the Wall street newspaper writers of longest service. He was a member of the Cornell University Club and Alpha Delta Phi Club of New York.

Physical Training Handbook.

The handbook issued by the department of physical training every fall has been expanded by Professor C. V. P. Young and is now a booklet of forty pages. Besides the usual instructions in regard to the department and hints on exercise and personal hygiene, it contains a large amount of information about the various forms of athletics at Cornell and their organization. A map of the neighborhood of Ithaca and a list of objective points for country walks are included. The book is illustrated with halftone cuts of Cornell teams.

FOOTBALL.

About the same time that Captain Walder was asking for more undergraduate material for the football squad, the alumni football advisory committee was meeting in the office of the graduate manager and planning to have more old football men here to help instruct the players. Telegrams have been sent to a number of men asking them to report for duty on Percy Field as soon as possible. The coaches who are here say the outlook is gloomy, on account of the greenness of most of the candidates. But there is encouragement in the fact that there isn't a man on the squad who is not a fighter. The substitutes showed this in Saturday's game. They played real football after the score was tied. The men are willing to learn, and it is hoped there will be no lack of old players to instruct them.
